If There Were No United Nations . . .

What would the world be like today if there had been no United Nations formed in 1945? If there had been no UN, it would mean . . .

that Central Africa would be under the leadership of pro-Western, Christian, anti-Communist Moise Tshombe, instead of the cutthroats, killers, cannibals, and Communists who now dominate that region.

that the Berlin Wall would never have been erected, and that streams of refugees would have continued to remind the world that Communism is imposed, not chosen.

that the United States, free of UN controls, would have sought speedy and honorable victory in Korea – thereby precluding any possibility of the Vietnam horror of the past thirteen years.

that the United States would have continued to deserve the respect of the rest of the world, instead of being viewed as a spineless weakling because our leaders continually grovel before petty tyrants, Communist butchers, and so-called "world opinion."

that throughout the world, socialism and Communism would have retreated, to be replaced by free enterprise, personal initiative, and more freedom than most persons have ever known.

A world freed of the United Nations and its Communist masters would be a world of hope, not horror. A world where the divisions among men were gradually bridged, and the scars among nations were steadily healed.

For the countless millions now suffering under the endless night of Communist enslavement, it would mean fervent rejoicing at seeing the dawn of freedom. And for Americans, it would mean the right once more to be proud that our country was fostering freedom, responsibility, and goodwill throughout the world.

If there were no United Nations...

The United Nations Record

Yesterday– Today– Tomorrow

Have you ever wondered . . .

. . . what the world would be like if there had been no United Nations formed in 1945? Some will answer that there would be wars in all parts of the world without the UN. But haven't there been wars over most of the globe anyway?

Some will say that there would be massive starvation, racial animosity, and no cooperation among nations. But hasn't there been mass starvation in Biafra and India? And racial animosity all around the world? And very little cooperation among nations?

But before you conclude that the UN has failed simply because not enough nations have given it enough support, let us ask you another question.

Have you ever wondered what the world would be like if the United Nations did become powerful enough to stop all wars and share all food? What if the UN did become what so many of its founders intended – a world super-government, more powerful than any single country, including the United States?

Stop a moment and think about it. And while you're considering it, review with us some of the truth about the United Nations record.

The UN's Day Of Shame

The Republic of China was one of the original founders of the United Nations, and a permanent member of the Security Council. Driven from mainland China by Communists in 1949, millions of these brave people escaped to Taiwan. In a few short years it became one of the most prosperous, most productive areas in all of Asia. The Communists have been dedicated to its destruction ever since.

In October 1971, on the twenty-sixth anniversary of its creation, the UN voted to expel the Republic of China from membership and to seat instead the murderous tyranny of Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai. The decision was in specific violation of the UN Charter. But it was greeted with obscene rejoicing on the floor of the United Nations.

By this action, and many others too numerous to list here, the United Nations converted the anniversary of its founding into a Day Of Shame. We shall proclaim October 24 as a Day Of Shame – and urge other Americans to join with us in this protest – until Congress agrees to Get US out! of the UN.

The Dangerous Genocide Treaty

For more than twenty years, the United Nations has urged ratification of the Genocide Treaty, a vaguely worded document which would make it an international crime to cause physical or mental harm to any member of any minority group. The Treaty is carefully phrased so that it does not apply to the millions of victims murdered by the Communists. But it would mean that any American, accused of causing "mental anguish" to someone of another race, could face trial in a foreign country by a foreign court.

Significantly, Communist revolutionaries have been accusing the United States of "genocide" since 1951. Passage of the Genocide Treaty could lead to an American policeman facing trial in Tanzania for arresting a Black Panther – or an American soldier facing trial in Hanoi for protecting South Vietnam. Such is UN "justice." Which is another reason to ask Congress to Get US out! of this dangerous organization.

The United Nations "Peace" Army

Even before the ink had dried on the UN Charter, its most avid promoters were urging the creation of a new army – a United Nations "Peace Force" that would control all of the world's arms and armed forces. Such a scheme would seem preposterous to most Americans. But in 1961, the President of the United States actually proposed that we phase out our armed forces and weapons, and surrender control of our military to a United Nations "Peace Force."

Are we implementing this disarmament program? The answer is an emphatic yes. The Nuclear Test Ban Treaty, the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty, the closing of our overseas bases, the halt in new weapons development are all part of it.

If the idea of a super-powerful UN Army doesn't alarm you, it should. The record of the UN "peace-keeping" forces in the Congo a decade ago indicates what could be in store for us. Striking without warning, UN troops massacred civilians, bombed hospitals, destroyed schools and churches, and slaughtered women and children. Such barbarism is another reason why the U.S. must never disarm – and why we should demand that our officials Get US out! of the United Nations.

The UN Control Of Our Schools

What would an all-powerful United Nations do about education? The global master planners have an answer for that, too. In 1960, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) prepared an international treaty on education. Congressional critics prevented its adoption by the United States when they warned that the treaty would "deliver the entire American educational system into UNESCO international control."

However, during the past thirteen years the U.S. Office of Education and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare have begun implementing every major proposal in the treaty! This includes massive busing of children, federal financing and then federal control of all schools, and the use of UN materials in our classrooms. This growing UN control of our schools is another reason why patriotic Americans must begin petitioning their Representatives to Get US out!

A Base For Communist Spies

The United Nations headquarters in New York is without doubt the major center for Communist espionage activities throughout North America. Yet the UN has never done anything to protect its host country, the United States, from the criminal activities of its delegates. The FBI has estimated that some eighty percent of Soviet-bloc personnel at the United Nations are espionage agents, not diplomats at all. And now, with the admission of Red China, thousands more Red spies will receive immunity from arrest or prosecution.

That the United Nations is a crucial Communist espionage center should surprise no one. After all, of the seventeen Americans who had key roles in formulating the early policies of the UN, all but one were subsequently identified as Communists. Heading the list was the first UN Secretary General – convicted perjurer Alger Hiss. Such traitorous betrayal of this country is another reason why a concerted national petition drive to Get US out! of the UN is so essential.

A Strange Idea Of Peace

Since the day of its founding, the United Nations has been hailed as "mankind's last best hope for peace" – yet there has been no peace. Following its hypocritical double standards, the UN has steadfastly refused to condemn Communist terrorism and aggression, while it continually attacks any person or any country that stands in the Communists' way.

For example, in November, 1974, while the Vietcong were liquidating whole villages in South Vietnam, where was the UN's protest? While the Frelimo terrorists slaughtered innocent victims in Mozambique, what action did the UN take? The Palestine Liberation Organization has slaughtered children in Israel, and was responsible for cold-blooded murder at the Munich Olympic Games. Yet when Yasir Arafat, leader of the pro-Communist PLO, was invited to address the UN General Assembly in 1974, he was enthusiastically welcomed.

To the United Nations, "peace" means the absence of resistance to Communism. And for the past thirty years, the UN has worked to promote that "peace" throughout the world. This is another reason why we urge you to join with us in asking Congress to Get US out! of the UN.

A Dangerous Version Of Freedom

To an American, freedom means being able to worship as you please, travel where you wish, work where you prefer, say what you believe, read what appeals to you, vote for (or against) your government officials – in short, to make your own decisions about your own life.

But "freedom" means something quite different to the United Nations. The freedom it promotes is doing whatever the state says! The UN has never done anything while the Communists assault religious freedom, destroy the sanctity of the family, abrogate property rights, and abolish free elections. It has, in fact, continuously cooperated with every part of these Communist campaigns.

An all-powerful United Nations would mean sacrificing every principle Americans revere. This is another compelling reason why we are petitioning Congress to Get US out! of the UN – and why we urge you to support this campaign.
