| Comparison of Different State's Indemnity Funds |  |  |  |  |                                     |  |
|---|--|--|--|--|-------------------------------------|--|
| State   | Who pays into the fund?  | Is participationvoluntary ormandatory? | What is the method of funding?   | What is themaximum andminimum level? | Is there anadvisoryboard?   | What is the maximumcoverage affordedclaimants? |
| Indiana   | Grainproducers   | Voluntary                                      | 0.2% of the value on all grain sold  | $5,000,000 -$10,000,000                | Yes                                 | 100% if stored; 80% if from dealer/buyer; no cap       |
| Iowa  | Grain Dealersand StateLicensedWarehouseOperators | Mandatory                                      | $0.0025 per bushel onpurchased grain; $500annual fee from graindealers; $2.75 per 5,000bushels of capacity fromwarehouses | $3,000,000 -$6,000,000                 | Yes                                 | 90% up to a maximum of$150,000                    |
| Idaho   | Producers  | Mandatory                                      | 0.2% of the value of the commodities; 0.5% for seed commodities  | $10,000,000 -$12,000,000               | Yes                                 | 90%  |
| NorthDakota                                 | Anyoneentering acredit salecontract                  | Mandatory                                      | 0.2% of the value of all grain sold under a credit sale contract   | $3,000,000 -$6,000,000                 | No, PublicServiceCommission | 80% up to a maximumpayout of $280,000             |