Grown & Brewed

Montana's history is coupled with a strong agricultural tradition of growing some of the finest grains in the nation. We live in the midst of the Golden Triangle, an area just off the Rocky Mountains that produces barley that is used throughout the country to produce fine beers, domestic and craft. Montana Brewers pride themselves in using Montana grown grain to make their beer, and to partner with Montana farmers and producers. Our "Grown and Brewed" Seal depicts this pride, so look for it around the state to identify beer made in Montana from grain grown right here. Montana-made beer is truly Brewed from the Ground Up!
