Trends:

- After several years in which there were no Native American IPH deaths, 2014 brought two. Native Americans remain victims of intimate partner homicide at a disproportionate rate in our state. While constituting approximately 7% of the state's population, they make up 13% of IPH events and 11% of intimate partner victims. As in past Indian Country deaths, both the victim and perpetrator were Native American.
- In non-Native IPH, females are the perpetrator in 27% of the killings. In Native American IPH, females are the killers 58% of the time.
- In non-Native, female perpetrated IPH a knife is used 37% of the time. In Native American IPH a knife is used 86% of the time.
- Firearms are used in 76% of non-Native killings. In reservation communities firearms are used only 25% of the time.
- All Native American IPH have involved both Native victims and perpetrators.
- There have been no Native American familicides.

Trends: Cont'd

- Statewide, firearms continue to be the most frequently used weapons.
- Substance abuse, including prescription drugs, was a significant factor in several of the killings.
- Most of IPH deaths this biennium occurred West of Billings. Twenty-seven percent of the deaths took place in the Flathead.
- In the majority of incidents, family, friends and/or coworkers were aware of violence within the home but did not intervene.
- Three of the perpetrators had significant criminal histories.
- These killings resulted in significant trauma to minor children who witnessed the killing or dealt with its immediate aftermath. Resources provided to the children varied tremendously.
- Use of social media/digital technology is becoming much more common in perpetrating coercive control [e.g. cyber stalking]. Additionally, it is being used more and more to solve DV crimes and in the creation of safety plans.

Recommendations:

- Provide regular training to public assistance case managers on the good cause exemption for domestic violence victims, particularly related to child support enforcement.
- Continue the collaboration and joint trainings between Montana's Department of Justice, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the U.S. Attorney's Office and the MT – WY Tribal Judges Association.
- Expand the state's Crime Victim Compensation Program to increase the reimbursement rate for funeral expenses. The $3,500 figure has not been raised since 1995 and its limitation can place a financial burden on families of those killed in intimate partner homicides.
- Increase the use of trauma-based services among those working with DV victims, perpetrators and children who grow up in violent homes.
- Pass legislation focused on strangulation, either creating a new stand-alone statute or enhancing existing DV statutes.

[DRAFT]

Recommendations: Cont'd

- Institute a statewide child death review team modeled on the adult death review teams.
- Expand the use of danger/lethality assessments by law enforcement, victim advocates, medical personnel and criminal justice staff.
- Conduct trainings for tribal and non-tribal judges, law enforcement, and health professionals on lethality assessments and domestic violence screenings so those interacting with victims can better assess the risks associated with intimate partner violence. Take steps to educate all Montanans on factors unique to Indian Country in order to better understand how domestic violence is different in Indian Country. Examples include historical trauma, sexual abuse, and concentrated poverty.
- Strengthen Indian Country multi-disciplinary team efforts in staffing and intervening in family violence. Develop culturally appropriate family violence intervention protocols that can be utilized by tribal programs.
