

Testimony for SB180
January 17, 2005
Senate State Administration Committee
Darlene Staffeldt
Montana State Librarian
406-444-3115

Madam Chair and members of the Committee, for the record my name is Darlene Staffeldt and I am your State Librarian. I thank you for your time and attention here today.

The State archives provide a valuable service to the people of Montana by preserving and providing access to the historic records of state government. This service allows the citizens of this state to hold state government accountable for its actions and to research and study the history of their state.

These archival records are a part of Montana's information resources. Compared to most other states Montana is "resource poor"; our scarcity of resources mandates that libraries share their resources to provide citizens with access to information. Access to information or intellectual capital is as important to the future of our communities as access to financial capital.

Please help the Historical Society preserve and provide access to these Montana historical records. Thank you for your time.