6
7	WHEREAS, Montana is a special land blessed by an abundance of natural wonders and diverse wildlife.
8	from the soft hues of prairie sunsets to the glistening white of towering granite peaks, from prehistoric sturgeon
9	to the magnificent grizzly bear; and
10	WHEREAS, Montana always has and always will be inhabited by special people, beginning with the
11	American Indians who survived and prospered in the harsh terrain and turn of the seasons by cultivating the
12	bounty of the land to care for their peoples; and
13	WHEREAS, Montana has a unique history, as the first Montanans saw the explorers Lewis and Clark and
14	the trail of homesteaders who heard the great cry to head west; and
15	WHEREAS, Montana has always been a place of great culture and the home of people, such as Charlie
16	Russell, known the world over; and
17	WHEREAS, just as in welcoming a new spring day by listening to the rich song of the western
18	meadowlark, all Montanans carry a song in their hearts and look to the future with hope and optimism.
19

21	MONTANA:
22	That the first day of spring in every year, March 21st, be known to one and all as the "celebrate Montana
