

John W. Edwards

John W. Edwards was born and raised in Billings, MT and graduated from Billings West High in 1998. He graduated from the University of Montana with a Bachelor of Arts in Communication Studies in 2003, and completed his Law Degree from the University of Montana in 2008.

John spent his formative years in Billings and working summers working on a ranch in central Montana before attending undergraduate school at the University of Montana. While at U of M John was fortunate enough to receive his education while participating in intercollegiate athletics. This opportunity allowed John to participate in two Football I-AA National Title games; one being successful in 2001. Between his undergraduate degree and Law School John interned for the Edwards Law Firm and decided to follow his brother and father in the practice of law.

Together Cliff, Chris and John share other family businesses to include Edwards Jet Center of Montana, a full service FBO, in Billings Montana employing nearly 70 employees, along with various real estate and ranching businesses.

As a fourth generation Montanan, John enjoys hunting, fishing, skiing, and spending time enjoying the diversity of Montana with his wife Hollis and their daughter Ellison Marie.

John was admitted to the Montana State Bar in 2008. He is a member of the Montana Trial Lawyers Association, American Association for Justice, and American Bar Association.

John's practice areas include Personal Injury, Automotive Accident Injuries, Aviation/Airplane Products Liability and Accidents, Insurance Bad Faith, Products Liability, Railroad Accident and Injuries, Nursing Home Negligence and Toxic Pollution Cleanup. He is licensed to practice in all Montana State Courts, and the United States District Court for the District of Montana