

As a Livestock owner year around on the Horse Butte Peninsula, I am for the Private property rights being respected by having to get permission along with letting us know ahead of time there will be a haze.

I'm tired of chasing down my horses, fixing fence, doctoring cuts, because of the helicopter hovering over the property, and near proximity.

Bison have never destroyed my fences but the Helicopter has caused my horses to 'bust' through them.

Not to mention people enjoying our forests and all of a sudden they get caught in a haze.

Personally the Horse Butte Peninsula should be where they haze roaming Bison to. No cattle are at risk. Save some money.
