We are against the crossbow for any reason in the Archery season in Montana, Montana already has in place a system that accommodates the handicapped archer. the Modified Archers Permit allows a handicapped person to use a horizontal bow, both compound or a traditional longbow or Recurve Bow with a draw loc system that in extreme cases can be shot with a breathing tube. this bow is legal right now in archery seasons in Montana for the handicapped. Groups like the Montana Bowhunters Association have gone the extra mile to ensure that archery and bowhunting is available to anyone who chooses to do so. This system has been available since 2002.
