

Hello Ladies and Gentlemen
Good Mornins
 Hello Mister or Madam Chairperson
 Hello members of the Committee

Raymee Haubrich

It is an honor to be here. Thank you for your time this day.

My name is Raymee Haubrich. I am from Bozeman, MT, in support of this Bill

We are all here for many reasons. There is a banner that each of you have raised high in your heart. That banner is a representation of who you are at the very center of your person. There are two parts to you as a person, a soul and a body. The proposal to amend the Constitution Article 2 section 17 has a soul and a body as well. It is driven by men and women, born of women, that want to protect persons born to this world regardless of how God has created them, both now and into the future. Jesus Christ, the only begotten Son of God, was crucified. He poured out his life blood; "For God so loved the world, that he hath given his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16. The banner of the Lord for all of his people.

Jesus was crucified before the foundation of the earth. He was with God the Father before the beginning. Know for certain that God has made this Jesus, whom you crucified, both Lord and Christ. He shall come to judge the living and the dead. You may be saying, please, speak to the bill at hand. My reply to that is, I am speaking to that bill. Each person, regardless of condition and how we see them, are made in the image of God. Genesis 1:27. He alone is sovereign over every single detail of all things seen and unseen. When God creates a person, the soul is uniquely matched to the body. He is choosing from all sorts of designs, short, tall, big, small, even if a child is born with a cleft palette. Down syndrome, some see that as undesirable. God sees much differently than we do. God is more loving, more compassionate than any of us alive down here. The scripture is very clear, God is love. John 4:7. By logical deduction that means God must hate. God must hate all that is contrary to Love.

God's law is a representation to who he is. He that loves life, a person's life, he must hate murder. God is also kind to ungrateful and evil men. John 6:35. There is no possible way that anyone here is kind to ungrateful and evil men, especially to the extent like God. Perhaps you are one of the ungrateful and evil men that God speaks about. Now hold on, you may be thinking, I am not evil. There is a simple test to find out if that is true. If you have spoken a lie, that makes you a liar, regardless if you use labels. If you have ever stolen anything, unconcerned of the value, even if it is small, and not to feed your family, makes you a thief. If you have used God's name in vain, which so abundant in our wicked culture, on television, movies, songs, oh my G O D, Jesus Christ this, Jesus Christ that, makes you a blasphemer. If you have looked lustfully upon another person, regardless of the sex, you are an adulterous person at heart. You are a lawbreaker; your conscience also bearing witness. Romans 2:15

Yes, I am still speaking to the amendment at hand. I stated at the beginning there is a soul to this amendment. This amendment is to state that which most people know, that each person is a life. Your life is in the hand of a Good God. Yes he is good. You cannot make your heart beat. God gives you life and breath. The problem is, those that are outside of Jesus Christ imagine all kinds of things, even repress the truth through unrighteousness. Romans 1:18. Since God is good he must do that which is good. He cannot allow a law breaker go free. Lying, theft, blasphemy, and adultery, are actions that have broken God's law; the lawbreaker must be punished. When people squabble over, when does a person actually become a person, first trimester, second, third; it takes the focus off of the real part behind those debates, evil. It is evil to remove from our society consequences for actions. Be assured God is not mocked. God shall dispense perfect justice. The guilty shall be punished, forever, in hell. Our laws are to be a reflection of God's laws. Only a fool says in his heart there is no God, which means, they do not want a god.

Those that would rather leave what defines a person out in the open, as a focal point of the abortion debate, keeping it as a term that really cannot be defined, allow atrocities that are associated with that debate to remain equally ambiguous. The reason behind that is their own deceitfully wicked heart. It desperately needs changing lest they perish forever in hell. The blood of Jesus Christ is the only thing that can cleanse a person from all unrighteousness; abortion, lying, theft, blasphemy, adultery, not standing up for the defense of the least among us.

Here is an example of the hardness of heart among people that are supporting a murderous industry, abortion.

The following two quotes are used from Salon.com, an article written by Mary Williams, January, 2013.

"Here's the complicated reality in which we live: All life is not equal." (2)

"Yet a fetus can be a human life without having the same rights as the woman in whose body it resides. She's the boss. Her life and what is right for her circumstances and her health should automatically trump the rights of the non-autonomous entity inside of her. Always." (2)

Skip

The key to acknowledge here is certain people want to keep an option open for them, the ability to take a human life without any legal consequences. It seems to say, yes, it is a life in the womb of a woman, and that woman has the right to kill it for any reason possible. That is perhaps even a tame version of what really lurks behind such things as women's reproductive rights, the right to choose, it is her body, or some variation of those. Her body actually does not belong to her. It belongs to God. He gave her life, breath and makes her heart beat. Here, "And dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit return to God that gave it. Ecclesiastes 12:7

Again quoting Mrs. Williams:

"When we try to act like a pregnancy doesn't involve human life, we wind up drawing stupid semantic lines in the sand: first trimester abortion vs. second trimester vs. late term, dancing around the issue trying to decide if there's a single magic moment when a fetus becomes a person. Are you human only when you're born? Only when you're viable outside of the womb? Are you less of a human life when you look like a tadpole than when you can suck on your thumb?" (2)

"It seems absurd to suggest that the only thing that makes us fully human is the short ride out of some lady's vagina." (2) Skip

"If by some random fluke I learned today I was pregnant, you bet your ass I'd have an abortion. I'd have the World's Greatest Abortion." (2)

"And I would put the life of a mother over the life of a fetus every single time — even if I still need to acknowledge my conviction that the fetus is indeed a life. A life worth sacrificing." (2)

This woman has openly stated what the case is circulating around abortion. There are many people that want to get everything, whenever you want, enjoy everything, whatever you have to do, come back for more, and have legal protections to have no consequences. This just goes to show, even evil men want their best life now. Since it is legal to commit murder, since the definition of a person is debated, we are following the footsteps of Nazi Germany under the control of a God hating man, Adolf Hitler. Is there some story that can be used to move a person, with sympathy for protecting all persons, strong enough to overcome them that clearly acknowledges that it is a life in the womb and still would choose to end that life? Only the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

If time permits, use below this line

Jesus Christ was attested to have made the blind see, cause the lame to walk, heal all manner of sickness, feed thousands by giving thanks speaking only a few words. He went about teaching and healing, that was his life. Outside of Jesus Christ, men simply seek to do what is right in their own eyes.

"As it is written, There is none righteous no not one. There is none that understandeth: there is none that seeketh God. They have all gone out of the way: they have been made altogether unprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one. Their throat is an open sepulcher: they have used their tongues to deceit: the poison of asps is under their lips. Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness. Their feet are swift to shed blood. Destruction and calamity are in their ways: And the way of peace they have not known. The fear of God is not before their eyes." Romans 3:10-18.

Jesus Christ came into the world and fulfilled many old testament prophecies concerning him. "For thou wilt not leave my soul in the grave: neither wilt thou suffer thine holy One to see corruption." Psalm 16:10. This Psalm was written by King David, king of the Israelites. It is also a surety that David died and he was buried stated clearly in Acts 2 that his grave was there till this day. King David was not speaking of himself. He was also a prophet of God. He was speaking of another that would come to sit on his throne and his dominion would have no end. It would be an everlasting kingdom.

Jesus Christ did not see corruption. He was only in the tomb three days. Just three days. We have an example of a person that was dead and in the grave four days, and already was stinking. Lazarus was that person in the grave four days, he was corrupting, he was rotting. And so shall all that are here today. One day your body will go in the ground. There was no life left in him. There was nothing that could be done medically to bring that person back from the dead. He was dead, twice dead, plucked up by the roots. Jesus was only in grave three days. Just three days, he was raised to life. God would not let his holy One see corruption. David, though a great king, wise, and a valiant warrior, he was not holy. He needed his sins to be paid by the blood of the Lamb of God. King David doubted. He also committed adultery and murder. King David was not holy.

Psalm 22.

1 My God, my God, why have you forsaken me...

7 All they that see me, have me in derision: they make a mow and nod the head, saying,

8 He trusted in the Lord, let him deliver him: let him save him, seeing he loveth him.

16 For dogs have compassed me, and the assembly of the wicked have enclosed me: they pierced mine hands and my feet.

18 They part my garments among them, and cast lost upon my vesture.

Jesus was betrayed into custody under the cover of darkness. Men love darkness for their deeds are evil. Jesus was hauled in by armed guards led by one cowardly Judas Iscariot. After standing before a council and a Roman governor, Jesus was flogged, beaten, spit upon, forced to carry his own wooden cross to a place outside of the city to be crucified. Being crucified meant that his hands and his feet had to be pierced in order to be attached to a wooden cross. This is a gruesome way to die. There would be so much agony, unbearable pain. When he was put on the cross, there were a few people that were casting lots for his clothes and wishing that it remain whole for it was a one piece garment, top to bottom. They were also heaping insults at him. The high Priests, Scribes, Elders, and Pharisees said, "He saved others, but he cannot save himself. He trusted in God, let him deliver him now, if he will save him: for he said I am the Son of God. Matthew 27:41, 42, 43.

Then in the midst of mockers, Jesus hanging on the cross as a public spectacle, Jesus cries out with a loud voice, "Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Matthew 27:46. Truly if anyone can say that, Jesus can. God the Father had turned his back on his Son and poured out his wrath on him, leaving nothing. "The Lord was pleased to crush him..." Isaiah 53:10 That is what it means that God had forsaken his only begotten Son. Take a ten thousand pound mill stone, about the weight of three cars, set a grain of wheat on that stone. Take another ten thousand pound mill stone and set it on top. What happened to the wheat, happened to Jesus under the weight of his Father's wrath. Then Jesus said, "it is finished, and bowed his head, and gave up the ghost." John 19:30.

Death could not hold Jesus. He was raised to life after just three days in the grave. What do you think is going to happen to you? Seeing that God is no respecter of persons, he crushed his own Son, because he paid the penalty for the sins of his people, how do you think you shall escape the wrath of God? He did not spare his own Son, the only begotten of the Father, whom he loved. The soul that sonnet shall die. God transferred the sins of his people to Jesus. Jesus became sin. He did not become a sinner, he became sin. So there you are kicking around in your blood and depravity and the only way out is to believe in the Son of God, that your sins are paid through the blood, the atoning sacrifice of Jesus. Jesus stepped into your place. He took what you deserve, to die, and die eternally forever in hell. He nailed it to the cross. Trust in him. Trust in him or you shall see what Jesus did on that cross and have nothing left but weeping and gnashing of teeth for eternity. Come all who are weary and heavy laden with the burden of sin. Come those that thirst for life. Come those that are lame. Come those that are blind. Come, Come, Come. Why should you perish seeing how there is this great salvation prepared already? Why should you continue to fight against God? Come, in the name of Christ, come. Come to Christ. Get to Jesus by Jesus. He is all you have to gain eternal life. Is there more sin you want? More lies you want to tell? More things to steal? Come, for God's sake come, that he may give your Life, Love, and Peace.

If time permits, use above this line

The only thing that can stand between you and the wrath of Almighty God, this side of the grave is Jesus Christ. "Neither is there salvation in any other: for among men there is given none other Name under heaven, whereby we must be saved." Acts 4:12 Repent and turn from your wicked ways. Cast yourself upon the Lord Jesus Christ. He is pictured as a lamb, a lamb as though slain. Are you afraid of a lamb? Jesus also is pictured as a man that rides a horse, has a robed that is dipped in blood. He has a two edged sword that comes out of his mouth, he is girded about, and has feet like burnished bronze as though glowing in a furnace. Flee from the wrath to come. Repent and believe the Gospel. Mark 1:15. Christians, live for Christ Jesus. Christians, do not give up. Christians, continue to love the Lord. This is his battle, he will win. There are many things I do not know. One thing I do know, Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners, from their sin.

Use this please Lord, for your glory alone. In Christ name change their hearts. Amen.
