TO: Recipients of the Draft Environmental Impact Statement on the Relocation of the Auction Yards of the Billings Livestock Commission Company.

From: Charles Brown, Staff Attorney

Re: Issuance of Final Environmental Impact Statement.

On July 14, 1975 the Department of Livestock issued a draft environmental impact statement on the relocation of the Billings Livestock Commission Company and requested review and comments thereto.

Since both comments received contained no adverse statements the Department of Livestock hereby declares the draft statement to be the final environmental impact statement in this matter.
The environmental review process as it pertains to the suitability of the site and plans for the facility is complete.

Dear Mr. Brown:

As requested in your letter of July 14, 1975, we have reviewed the draft impact statement on relocation of the Billings Livestock Commission Company's market facility.

This review was conducted by our regional office in Billings. They have no wildlife-oriented objections to this project.

Sincerely,

James A. Posewitz, Administrator
Environment and Information Division

Dear Mr. Graham:

Thank you for the opportunity to review the Draft E.I.S. on the Proposed Relocation of the Billings Livestock Commission Company's Auction Yards.

It appears that a considerable amount of time and effort has gone into the planning of this facility. The questions we normally ask of developers of this type of facility have all been adequately addressed and answered. We do, therefore, support the proposed relocation of the Billings Livestock Company's Auction Yards to the new site in the Lockwood area east of Billings.

Sincerely,
