

Irrigated Agriculture Study -- DNRC

House Bill 2 -- Language Requirements

Economic analysis of irrigated agriculture is restricted to contracted services for the purposes of determining the economic benefits of irrigation, the impacts of new irrigation projects, and the rehabilitation needs of older irrigation projects. The department shall provide to the interim water policy committee the scoping document of the study prior to release of the request for proposal to complete the study. A final written report must be provided to the interim water policy committee by September 15, 2008.