Christi Jacobsen, Secretary of State of the State of Montana, extended greetings to the members on behalf of the State of Montana and delivered the following speech:

On behalf of the state of Montana, the 41st state admitted to the Union, I would like to welcome you all to the Montana House of Representatives. I'm Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen, and I would like to be the first to congratulate each and every one of you on being elected to serve in the 67th legislature of the state of Montana.

I, along with our fellow Montanans, thank you for your service.

As you look around the room today, you'll see some familiar faces, but likely many new faces, as well. As you spend the next 90 days of the legislative session getting to know one another, searching for common ground - agreeing or even disagreeing - I ask you to remember that these are the faces of your fellow Montanans. Today, and all 90 days, are about the people of Montana working together for their best interest.

HOUSE JOURNAL
FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 4, 2021

Today begins my favorite part of the session - as each of you prepare to carry out your responsibilities, you bring fresh ideas and a rejuvenated energy into this historic building. Our great state has a bright future under new leadership - leadership whose goal is to work with you to help Montana communities and businesses thrive.

There's no denying 2020 was a challenging and trying year, across the country and right here at home. Businesses were closed, schools went remote and we fought to keep our loved ones healthy and safe.

As difficult as the past 10 months have been, I know, as you know, Montanans are built to overcome a challenge. Our friends and neighbors have shown perseverance and resilience, compassion and courage.

As you have seen over the past couple of weeks, the COVID-19 vaccine is now here in our communities, being supplied to our frontline healthcare workers, military and veterans, and soon our elderly, essential workers, and those others at an elevated risk for contracting the virus.

As you embark on this journey, performing your duties and responsibilities, I ask that each of you display the same qualities shown by your fellow Montanans - perseverance, resilience, compassion and courage. You will be presented with the daunting, but noble task of drafting and voting on legislation that affects our great state, but with dedication and the spirit of cooperation, you will succeed in setting state policies on a variety of topics.

It will be important for each of you to think of the bigger picture, what's best for this institution and this great state. In doing this, I encourage you to form new friendships - not just with those that agree with you, but those with differing views. When working together, the great minds in this room will be capable of incredible things.

As your Secretary of State, I look forward to working with each of you in putting 2020 behind us and moving ahead to 2021. Again, I thank you for your service and wish you well on the coming weeks and months. I speak for our fellow Montanans when I say we're behind you, cheering you on and looking forward to the great work you do in bettering Montana's future. God bless, I wish you the best session in Montana history!
