Determining whether a person is acting as a controller or processor with respect to a specific 13 (4) 14 processing of data is a fact-based determination that depends on the following context in which personal data is 15 to be processed: 16 A person who is not limited in the processing of personal data pursuant to a controller's (a) 17 instructions or who fails to adhere to a controller's instructions is a controller and not a processor with respect to 18 a specific processing of data. 19 (b) A processor that continues to adhere to a controller's instructions with respect to a specific 20 processing of personal data remains a processor.

21 If a processor begins, alone or jointly with others, determining the purposes and means of the (c) 22 processing of personal data, the processor is a controller with respect to the processing and may be subject to 23 an enforcement action under [section 12].

compatible with processing data in furtherance of the provision of a product or service specifically requested by a consumer or the performance of a contract to which the consumer is a party.

3 (3) The obligations imposed on controllers or processors under [sections 1 through 12] may not 4 apply when compliance by the controller or processor with [sections 1 through 12] would violate an evidentiary 5 privilege under the laws of this state. Nothing in [sections 1 through 12] may be construed to prevent a 6 controller or processor from providing personal data concerning a consumer to a person covered by an 7 evidentiary privilege under the laws of this state as part of a privileged communication.

8 (4) A controller or processor that discloses personal data to a processor or third-party controller in 9 accordance with [sections 1 through 12] may not be considered to have violated [sections 1 through 12] if the 10 processor or third-party controller that receives and processes the personal data violates [sections 1 through 11 12] provided, at the time the disclosing controller or processor disclosed the personal data, the disclosing 12 controller or processor did not have actual knowledge that the receiving processor or third-party controller

13 would violate [sections 1 through 12]. A receiving processor or third-party controller receiving personal data

14 from a disclosing controller or processor in compliance with [sections 1 through 12] is likewise not in violation of

15 [sections 1 through 12] for the transgressions of the disclosing controller or processor from which the receiving

- 16 processor or third-party controller receives the personal data.

(5) Nothing in [sections 1 through 12] may be construed to:

(a) impose any obligation on a controller or processor that adversely affects the rights or freedoms of any person, including but not limited to the rights of any person:

20 (i) to freedom of speech or freedom of the press guaranteed in the first amendment to the United

22 (ii) under Rule 504 of the Montana Rules of Evidence; or

- 23 (b) apply to a person's processing of personal data during the person's personal or household

The controller or processor must, when applicable, consider the nature and purpose of the 3 collection, use, or retention of the personal data collected, used, or retained pursuant to subsection (2). The 4 personal data must be subject to reasonable administrative, technical, and physical measures to protect the 5 confidentiality, integrity, and accessibility of the personal data and to reduce reasonably foreseeable risks of 6 harm to consumers relating to the collection, use, or retention of personal data. 7 If a controller processes personal data pursuant to an exemption in this section, the controller (7) 8 bears the burden of demonstrating that the processing qualifies for the exemption and complies with the 9 requirements in subsection (6). 10 (8) Processing personal data for the purposes expressly identified in this section may not solely 11 make a legal entity a controller with respect to the processing. 12 NEW SECTION. Section 12. Enforcement. (1) (a) The attorney general shall, prior to initiating any 13 14 action for a violation of any provision of [sections 1 through 11], issue a notice of violation to the controller. 15 (b) If the controller fails to correct the violation within 60 days of receipt of the notice of violation, 16 the attorney general may bring an action pursuant to this section. 17 (c) If within the 60-day period the controller corrects the noticed violation and provides the attorney 18 general an express written statement that the alleged violations have been corrected and that no SUCH further 19 violations will occur, no action must be initiated against the controller. 20 (2) Nothing in [sections 1 through 11] may be construed as providing the basis for or be subject to 21 a private right of action for violations of [sections 1 through 11] or any other law. 22 23 NEW SECTION.
