

1 SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 58

2 INTRODUCED BY M. DUNWELL, J. ESP, B. BROWN, S. WEBBER, M. FOX, J. GROSS, W. CURDY, J.

3 SMALL, M. CUFFE, B. MOLNAR, S. O'BRIEN, C. POPE, J. ELLIS, W. SALES, S. FITZPATRICK, P.

4 FLOWERS, R. LYNCH, D. HAYMAN, E. MCCLAFFERTY, W. MCKAMEY, D. LENZ, D. BARTEL, G. HERTZ,

5 C. FRIEDEL, S. MORIGEAU, J. WELBORN, B. GILLESPIE, D. SALOMON, J. ELLSWORTH, K. BOGNER, R.

6 TEMPEL, D. ZOLNIKOV, J. TREBAS, B. BEARD, S. VANCE, F. MANDEVILLE, T. VERMEIRE, E. BOLDMAN

7
8 A RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF MONTANA HONORING THE LIFE AND WORK OF 9 CHARLES S. JOHNSON.10
11 WHEREAS, Charles S. Johnson was born in Montana and dedicated his life to observing,
12 documenting, and explaining the state and its people; and13 WHEREAS, while the name Charles S. Johnson graced newspaper bylines in the state for nearly half a
14 century over the most important of stories, the dean of Montana journalism always introduced himself as 15 simply, Chuck; and16 WHEREAS, one of Chuck's first reporting assignments was covering the 1972 Constitutional
17 Convention where he could not believe his good fortune to have a front row seat to history in the making; and18 WHEREAS, his experience with the building of the state constitution became the cornerstone of 19 Chuck's career as the state's longest-serving statehouse reporter; and20 WHEREAS, despite his stature and intellect, Chuck never thought he was more important or interesting
21 than anyone he covered. He treated those he encountered with respect and curiosity, be it a U.S. Senator, a
22 governor, or a committee secretary; and23 WHEREAS, Chuck's grin and gentle demeanor made him approachable to generations of young 24 journalists who quickly learned that he was generous with his time and knowledge, not just for a minute, but for 25 a lifetime. He continued to be a mentor, friend, and cheerleader for them until his last day; and26 WHEREAS, Chuck saw each day as an opportunity to learn. Most of us eschew change, but Chuck
27 treated life as a developing story. Ink ran in his veins, yet he embraced the opportunity to tell stories in any 28 medium—he found his way into radio, television and was tweeting gems until the end; and

1 WHEREAS, those who were interviewed by Charles S. Johnson could expect him to offer the benefit of 2 the doubt and exercise fairness, but his loyalty was always anchored to the truth; and

3 WHEREAS, Chuck would note that we buried the lede: He was the best of Montana in all respects. He 4 is missed and remembered.

5

6 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

7 That Montanans remember Chuck Johnson as a man of integrity, a student of history who sought
8 knowledge daily, and a fearless reporter who pursued truth, justice, and accuracy in the service of the state he 9 loved.

10 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Montana Legislature is encouraged to commemorate the life of 11 Charles S. Johnson on the capitol grounds where he spent many days and nights finding and telling stories that 12 no one would otherwise know.

13 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State send a copy of this resolution to each
14 member of the Montana Congressional Delegation, the Governor, and the presidents of the University of 15 Montana and Montana State University, both of which awarded degrees to Charles S. Johnson.

16 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State also send a copy of this resolution to every 17 news outlet in the state, including newspapers, radio stations, television stations, and online publications, as a
18 reminder for journalists to practice the craft the way Charles S. Johnson did: honestly, humbly, and tirelessly to 19 the end.

20

- END -