Montana residents don't want sales tax. It sounds like someone from out of state is wanting to change Montana to be like where they came from. 4% is a HUGE tax. We don't want it, never have, we have gone so long with out it. And DEFINITELY not for it when they say it could "possibly" lower other taxes. By the sounds of it, it possibly won't. Why would we vote or be for more taxes when they can't already cannot manage their budget as is? Montana just upped the unemployment pay out since the federal ran out. Places are hiring and looking for people but this high unemployment payouts are keeping from people working.
