INSIDE NCOIL

Who We Are

NCOIL is the only organization of legislators dedicated exclusively to developing insurance financial services model legislation and promoting sound insurance public policy. Our meetings offer state legislators a dynamic environment where they can discuss and debate current insurance issues with other state legislators and with insurance regulators, federal officials, consumer advocates, and industry representatives.

Founded in 1969, NCOIL is the voice of state legislators at a time when ever-increasing federal and international efforts threaten the core of state insurance oversight. We are, and always have been, committed to preserving state regulation of insurance.

What We Do

We improve the quality of state insurance legislation and regulation.

We hold three National Meetings each year to discuss new and recurring insurance policy issues.

Our committees, which address all areas of insurance, meet, as needed, on an interim basis in addition to holding sessions at each National Meeting.

We develop model laws and resolutions that states adopt as their own. We communicate with Congress and other leaders regarding the opinions of state legislators on critical insurance issues.

Working with other state groups, we speak out against efforts to encroach on state authority including any attempt to erode the McCarran-Ferguson Doctrine.

SERVICES WE PROVIDE

NCOIL Legislators enjoy—a forum for legislators to share information with other legislators on successes and failures in their states an opportunity to meet with colleagues across the nation at three NCOIL meetings each year an Annual Washington Fly-In when NCOIL legislators travel to our Nation's Capitol to educate Congress on NCOIL's important issues of the year interactive seminars on the topics of the day including innovation-driven regulatory reform, healthcare reform implementation, and other pressing concerns

copies of our monthly electronic newsletter

support from NCOIL staff regarding resource and research information

All states are NCOIL members. A majority of states opt to become dues-paying contributing states which entitles legislators from those states to receive travel stipends and hold NCOIL leadership positions. Travel stipends cover the meeting registration fee and reasonable travel and meal expenses.

Insurance Legislators Foundation ("ILF")

The ILF, an independent 501(c)(3) organization separate from NCOIL but committed to its growth, is a source of scholarship opportunities for qualified legislators to attend NCOIL meetings and to participate in NCOIL discussions and debates on critical policy issues. Scholarships cover the meeting registration fee and provide for $1,500 reasonable travel and meal expenses.
